

Explore ways of living sustainably

... at this fun, family friendly summer science festival

THE Small is...
FESTIVAL
2011

2nd-4th September
near Rugby

For more information call 01926 634 518, or go to:

www.smallisfestival.org

Reg Charity No. 247257

Reg Charity No. 1101849

Reg Charity No. 293074

The Small is... Festival is a space to share skills, learn about technologies, create networks, develop ideas and be inspired about international development and the planet.

Hands-on workshops and displays: Practical events including making your own bio-diesel, rope water pumps, solar pv energy, sustainable construction zone and much more!

Entertainment: open mic sessions (bring your instruments!), bands with international flavour and ceilidh, Schumacher and sustainability films, dawn guided walks, yoga sessions and much more...

Talks and debates: surrounding the subjects of food, energy, water, shelter and more!

Speakers from: Garden Organic - Ways to help people grow food organically, Practical Action - Sustainable living, Part Time Carnivore - Why meat eaters hold the key to sustainable consumption.

Conversation sessions: led by Practical Action, Engineers Without Borders UK, Garden Organic, Centre for Alternative Technology and others

Food and shops: locally produced, organic food, fair trade teas and coffees, eco-products, Practical Action Publishing bookstall and more...

Transport: shuttle bus, guided bike route from Rugby and Leamington train stations, liftshare is possible from pickup points, car parking is also available

Accommodation: camping, please bring your tent

Prices:

Day visitor: £7.50

Weekend Camping Ticket: £25 per person

Family Weekend Camping Ticket: £50

Contributors and helpers: Free

(Discount for children, students and the elderly)

www.smallisfestival.org

The Schumacher Centre, Bourton-on-Dunsmore, Rugby, Warwickshire, CV23 9QZ.
Reg Charity no. 247257